Remember Israr Hussein

STOP RACIST MURDERS

Six children have lost their father because he was murdered by a racist. Israr Hussein, a 45 year old taxi driver, was stabbed to death outside the Red Lion pub on Friday 27 December.

Like Stephen Lawrence ten years ago in south east London, he was murdered because the Nazis have been whipping up race hatred. Their rabid racism encourages attacks and violence. Everywhere the BNP organises, violence and death follow.

How many more must die? We have to unite to drive the BNP out of Oldham and the north west. Already, police figures have shown that racist attacks have increased in Oldham. Let's unite against them. Come along to the march and rally in remembrance of Israr Hussein. Bring your banners, your friends and your family.

Show your solidarity and donate generously.
